Hello, Cowlick

Day Four:
Don's bully attractive people! Even brothers have communication problems!

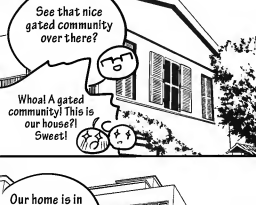
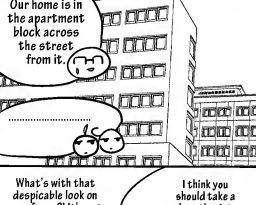
How pitiful. Don't worry, though. Your big brother will help you become big and strong.
Let's go home and get some food in you guys.





What's with that despicable look on your faces?! It's not like we're living in a box!
I think you should take a breath mint before you talk next time.
No, it's just that we were excited about the gated community ...

Simmered beef!
Chicken mushroom stew!

Instant noodles?
I said something simple. Those dishes would take forever to make... Hm?
Bargain-sized!

If you guys don't mind, you can put the instant noodles in your luggage.
I'll make a curry.

Ugh! Carrots! I hate carrots! Don't put them in!

Blech! Onions! I don't eat onions!

Cilantro?! Gross! Cilantro is evil! We won't eat it!

What do you guys think of a carrot, onion and cilantro curry?
Sounds delicious!

We don't get to eat together often. I should take this opportunity to have a heart-to-heart with them.
So where do you see yourself heading, Zhizhi? Have you put much thought into a career?
I want to be a pilot.
Oh, nice. An airplane pilot? Or do you want to fly jets? Or maybe rocket ships?
Gundam.
What the hell is that?
My savior.
Zhizhi! Stop messing with Yishi!
You said before that you wanted to be an EVA pilot.
Huh?
What's that?
How are you getting along with your brothers, Yishi? Is there an obvious age gap?
Relax. There's no age gap. I just have no idea what they're talking about.
